

JND LEGAL ADMINISTRATION ANNOUNCES RELOCATION OF FLAGSHIP SEATTLE HEADQUARTERS TO DOWNTOWN CENTRAL BUSINESS DISTRICT

SEATTLE, Oct. 23, 2018 – JND Legal Administration, a legal management and administration company serving law firms, corporations and government entities, today announced its corporate headquarters will move to the heart of downtown Seattle, trading its Belltown location for 1100 Second Avenue in the Central Business District.

The company is set to occupy over 35,000 square feet of office space at its new location, dedicating the majority of this space to its class action administration and recently amplified mass tort and lien resolution operations. JND is known throughout the legal administration industry for its notice program expertise, proven ability to manage some of the nation’s largest settlements and its sophisticated eDiscovery services.

“Although we signed our current Seattle lease less than a year ago, our dramatic growth and continued need for more space and personnel in less than a year’s time has necessitated this move,” comments Jennifer Keough, CEO of JND Legal Administration. “Our new space will allow us to comfortably handle the work we have now as well as provide ample room for expansion. Of course, this would not have happened without our employees and we are grateful for their hard work and dedication since we opened our doors 30 months ago.”

Seattle’s Central Business District is home to some of the largest corporations in the nation. The new flagship location hosts advanced technology systems for data analytics processing, a state-of-the-art mailroom for full in-house incoming and outgoing mailing capabilities, and state of the art security features. The ease of efficient urban transit alternatives and plethora of dining options and leisure activities are indicative of the company’s commitment to employee well-being.

“We will be right in the heart of downtown Seattle, steps away from train and bus lines, as well as some of the largest law firms in the city,” Keough comments. “We believe this central location will not only help with productivity, but also with the recruitment of local talent and clients as we continue to grow.”

The company’s new Seattle location is 1100 Second Avenue, Suite 300, Seattle, WA 98101.
