

JND Legal Administration Voted #1 Class Action Claims Administrator in National Survey

National Law Journal Names JND ‘Best Class Action Claims Administrator’ for 2021

SEATTLE – March 9, 2021 – JND Legal Administration (“JND”), the U.S. leader in legal management and administration services, has again been named as the Best Class Action Claims Administrator by U.S. attorneys and legal service providers, as published in the National Law Journal’s ‘Best of 2021’ annual reader survey. JND has been recognized as a leader in claims administration every year since its establishment, ranking in numerous national and regional American Lawyer Media (“ALM”) ‘Best of’ surveys, including the National Law Journal (“NLJ”), Legal Times and the New York Law Journal.

The NLJ ‘Best of 2021’ is the 10th annual edition of the national survey and lists the nation’s top providers across more than 60 legal service categories. The survey recognizes best-in-class service providers and functions as a vendor guide for law firms and businesses in search of peer-approved legal products and services. The ‘Best of’ survey is open to readers of the Journal, which has a print readership of 54,000 and a digital newsletter subscription base of 76,000. Survey winners are determined by popular vote.

“JND is honored to have been recognized as the nation’s best class action claims administrator,” says JND’s CEO and Co-Founder, Jennifer Keough. “We’ve hired the best in the industry and expanded our teams several times over to accommodate a steady influx of high-profile cases. As confirmed by this award, our firm has set the national standard for claims administration and legal service delivery.”

In 2020, the legal community voted JND a Best Claims Administrator in three separate ALM reader surveys, and JND was inducted into the New York Law Journal ‘Best of 2020’ Hall of Fame for having placed three years in a row. In past surveys, the firm has also ranked for ‘Best Legal Notice Advertising and Services’ and ‘Best End-to-End E-Discovery Solution Provider.’
